SELLS RESTAURANT PROPRIETOR STOLEN SUGAR

The first case of interest arising from the sugar situation was heard this morning before Justice J. B. White. The points in the case are that about noon yesterday a negro named William Jones shouldered up a hundred pounds of sugar consigned to H Chapman, a grocery dealer in the Pittsburgh Steel district.

Jones carried this bag of sugar straight up to the Busy Bee restaurant, according to testimony, and set it down outside the door. Entering the restaurant he is said to have made a deal with Pete Lucarakis, who paid him $4.00 with a promise of $3.00 more when he brought the bill. Evidence was that the negro received two $2.00 bills, and in a nearby barroom he had broken one bill to get a drink and sandwich.

Evidence was convincing against Jones, and after summing up, the justice committed him to jail at Greensburg in default of $500 bond.

Pete Lucarakis, one of the proprietors of the Busy Bee restaurant, was heard on a charge of receiving stolen goods Pete made a plain statement, saying that he bought the sugar thoughtlessly, as he does most any other commodity that is peddled along the town's streets The man said he had a wagon, and he gave the matter very little thought at the time, but as soon as the matter began to be discussed he went down street, met an officer and admitted buying the sugar and stated under what conditions. Pete acknowledged buying the sugar, but absolutely denied knowing it had been stolen. After necessary evidence was heard, Mr Lucarakis was placed under $200 bond to appear in court at Greensburg for trial. Bond was furnished by Stamatis Fis Fis.

Ready For Game

The result of the basketball game between Washington High school and the local High school tomorrow night will determine whether or not Monessen is to have an undisputed claim to the championship of western Pennsylvania. Monessen is the only team that has been undefeated this year and she has to her credit victories over such teams as South High, Fifth Avenue, Schenley, Waynesburg, McKeesport, Point Marion, Donora and Monongahela. No team in western Pennsylvania has played a harder schedule and no other team has made a record that can compare with that of the local team.

In case Monessen wins from Washington High tomorrow night and then conquers Canonsburg the week following, she will have made a record that has not been equalled by any High school team in recent years A large crowd will attend the game tomorrow night ready to root loyally and lustily for the fifteenth victory The students are practicing cheers and songs especially for this game as Washington is going exceptionally strong lately. Just a week ago she defeated the strong Wheeling High team by a one sided score and she is sure to put up a game fight.

Pleasant Surprise Tendered Lady

Last night a pleasant surprise was tendered Mrs. Ernest Carlson of Reed avenue. There were about 35 guests in attendance and the evening was most enjoyably spent in music, song and old time sociability. This event was arranged as a mark of esteem and repect for Mrs Carlson, who, along with her husband and family are soon to move to a farm near Ligonier. During the evening the honor guest received three pieces of cut glass and a large boquet of carnations and tulips. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Carl Peterson, Mrs. Gust Patur and Mrs. John Hillman. Everybody departed for home well pleased with the evening's enjoyment, and accorded Mrs Carlson all possible prosperity, happiness and success in her new home.

Youngster Welcomed

David Oliver Smith was a much surprised youngster Tuesday evening when practically the whole feminine neighborhood invaded the home to celebrate the advent of his coming. The son who was so welcomed in the community came to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith of McKee avenue. He is eight months old and a bright little fellow and so welcome is he in the neighborhood that the ladies planned to shower his arrival.

Without announcing to Mr. and Mrs Smith that an unusual celebration would be observed at their home on the above evening about thirty neighbors gathered in to pay their respects to the new boy. Each had provided something that would be useful in starting the baby on his journey through life. The gifts were abundant and profuse and consisted of everything a baby can make use of for months to come The gifts were piled upon a table and then opened to the gaze of all present. The sight was one seldom witnessed and never to be forgotten. Mr and Mrs Smith are perfectly happy in their new life and David Oliver has found a good home. The surprise was much appreciated and the hosts of the evening thanked the guests for their kindly remembrances.

Save In Clothes as Well as Food

This spring you want to make your clothes money go farther than ever before. You know how important a factor in your affairs your clothes are. but you probably dont think much about them except when you're buying them; and then you're quite apt to think more about what the clothes cost than about what they are.

This season "what they are" will be the vital question. You've heard a lot about the excessive cost of wool: the facts abot it are a good deal moer real than the words about it.

QUICK ADVANCEMENT

It is certainly astonishing to see how some of our soldier boys are coming along. Here is some young fellow, the pearly down of youth scarce shaved off his cheek, who now bears the honored title of Lieutenant, Captain or even perhaps Major. But a short time ago he was regarded as only a boy. Now he has the lives and fate of a group of men and the interests of his country in his youthful keeping. He is carrying heavier responsibilities than elderly men in positions of power and influence in the community.

This is one reason why army life appeals so powertully to young men.They feel the hazards keenly enough. But it cuts the gordian knots of life. In times of peace, life is a long and discouraging struggle for advancement. The knots are tangled and have to be untied with infinite labor and pains.

In time of war, the doors to advancement are thrown wide open. There may not be much more success. But there is fame and reputation, which are rewards that men prize equally well. And all these opportunities may come within a few months or a year by the quick recognition that is given to ability.

The fellows who have accepted the risks of service, or who are cheerfully complying with the government call, are entitled to some compensation. It is right that they should be given prompt advancement in life ahead of those who stay at home.

When a young fellow returns from the wars with a good record in an officer's position, it should help him in the pursuits of peace. He has shown ability to lead men under circumstances of great strain. That ability should be valuable in any business field. So the fellows who are making these sacrifices are going to be the coming men in th future days of business competition.

POLITICS AND BUSINESS

People who are familiar with Washington life say it is interesting to see the entire change of spirit since the war came on

Formerly the noted political leaders were pointed out to the stranger as the chief objects of personal interest. But today the chief interest is centering in the group of business executives that have been called to Washington to help run the war. It will be so more and more, and the effects of this change should last far beyond the war period.

The qualities that make for success in business and in politics are different. The successful business man must be efficient, and he must have some degree of expert skill. He must know the details of his line very thoroughly, and he must be able to organize human activity in systematic ways.

In our past history the successful politician has not usually needed to be an expert in anything but getting votes. He could succeed without business efficiency, or the mastery of business detail. Of course the successful politician is no fool. He is an expert in his line. That line is the art ot pleasing the people, frequently of cajoling them.

If a man is the master of soft and slippery words, he is frequently a winner over less tongucy men. This does not mean that politicians are any worse than other people. But it means that our people have not fully realized the necessity for expert efficiency in our administration of our national, state and local governments, and that we allow other qualities than efficiency to govern us in the choices we make. That kind of government has cost the American people an awful price.

THE BEAUTY SEEKERS

These are days of Suffragists and advance of women in industry. The old fashioned woman who principally wanted to be physically beautiful, might be thought to be out of the game. Yet when the war department wanted a picture of the prettiest girl for one of its war posters, there were 22,000 competing photographs submitted. The beauty seekers are not dead yet.

The old fashioned girl wanted to be beautiful more than anything else. The woman's pages in the newspapers printed unlimited "Beauty chats." The stuff must have had readers, or it would not have been put in. Many serious minded people used to say that it was a woman's first business to make herself physically attractive.

This theory was based on the idea that it was woman's first business to seek and win the favor of some man so that she could marry and have a home. The home end of the idea is all right. But the attainment of that end is not a favor solely to be dispensed by the male sex.

The old idea has been that men were won by good looks. There are many people that hold it still. Many young people in the calf age will discuss for hours the question which girl in their set is the best looking. They disregard cleverness, ability to do things, gracious manners, sparkling wit, and equable temper.

But the number of men who are caught by mere good looks is growing less each year. Classic features and fascinating complexions, real or faked, aren't the big winners they used to be. Just as masculine brain power has always won over mere muscle, so the time is coming when feminine wit and brains will win over mere beauty.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush the Kidneys at once when Backachy or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Women to Register For War Work

One hundred thousand Pennsylvania workers have been taken from productive labor to become fighting men. Other thousands have been drafted into war employment. Other thousands doubtless will be called.

The commercial activities of the state must continue if these fighting men are to be substantially supported. Who then will fill the gaps? A ready response must come from the women of the state and an opportunity has been presented in registration whereby women may indicate to the government what maner of work they are best fitted to perform in the event of their services being required by reason of the scarcity of men.

Registration will take place at the school buildings through out the county April 5 and 6. Registration is wholly voluntary and binds the registrant to nothing in the event that she finds herself later unable, for any reason, to fill the position she has indicated and to which she may have been called.

It is simply a patriotic expression of a willingness to help your country by engaging in some useful work should the occasion demand it. Women may serve as volunteers or for pay and there is an opportunity for untrained workers to receive the training necesary to fit them for several lines of work.

Registration has already discovered to many women forms of service of which they did not know they were capable or which they had not known were needed, and means of training which they did not know were available. It has also discovered to employers and public officials resources of woman power which they had not before known or appreciated.

Women are asked to keep in mind the registration dates, April 5 and 6, and whether it be big or little, registration will help each one to find her war work.

Plans for the registration are being carried forward with rapidity and efficiency. Within the next week or so, reproductions of the registration cards will be in the hands of every woman in Monessen, according to the chairman of the local organization. This will be done so that the women may study the card and familiarize themselves with the contents so that the work will be facilitated on the days of registration.

New Method of Blood Transfusion

A special from Paris says:

A new surgical discovery which changes the whole method of blood transfusion was calmly announced today at a regular session of the French Academy of Medicine.

Under a remarkably simply operation, reported by Dr. Ameuille, quantities of blood—from a half pint to a pint—may be drawn from a healthy subject without the waste of a drop and without pain. The liquid is then chemically treated to prevent coagulation, bottled under proper temperature and saved until it is needed for injection into the veins of a sick or wounded person.

The new process is simplicity itself. A small hypodermic needle is inserted into a surface vein. The blood is slowly drawn into a solution of citrate of soda. When the surgeons are ready to inject it into the veins of another patient, the operation is reversed. Pain in either process amounts to no more than a pin prick.

The old system of blood transfusion was both elaborate and dangerous. The arm of the person giving the blood was strapped to the arm of the ill or wounded patient. Liberal incisions were made in the arms of both and the veins were drawn to the surface and spliced. Then the slow transfusion began. Those who volunteered their blood were often given to understand that perhaps they were volunteering their life as well.

REAPING BENEFIT

From the Experience of Monessen People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Monessen residents on the following subject will interest and benefit many of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

E. S. Jones, grocer, Knox and First Sts., Monessen, says: "I can say this much for Doan's Kidney Pills, that on every occasion I have needed them, on account of backache or any other trouble with my kidneys, they have acted satisfactorily. They have always given me relief. In my opinion, Doan's Kidney Pills have no equal for kidney complaint and nothing could take their place in my home."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Jones had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

How Love Came to Them

There is a fine story in the April American Magazine in which this passage occurs:

"That night after dinner, they walked in the moonlight down the trail leading to the city and watched the mysterious blue-gray mists rise in softly curling banks to the mountain's top, as though in search of a comfortable resting place for the night. The air was fragrant with the odor of spruce and pine, and the only sound besides their own voices was the call of a night bird to his mate, or an occasional burst of laughter from the group on the hotel varanda.

"They talked of entirely impersonal things in choked, throaty voices, she reveling in the emotion that swayed them, he rebelling against it. Following a turn in the trail, they came suddenly out upon a little plateau drenched in moonlight, from which they could look down upon the twinkling lights of the city. The scent of miles of orange blossoms floated up to them and she turned and looked up at him, the moonlight falling full upon her white face with its great dark eyes and tremulous sweet mouth. In an instant his arms were about her, her lips met his and the prosaic world of yesterday had become the mortified world of today, tomorrow and of all days to come."

Spring made Debut Today

"Goodby Winter, Hello Spring!" would be a fitting greeting to the gentle maiden who made her debut at exactly 18 minutes after 5 o'clock this morning. It is an exceedingly early hour for such a young and timid creature as Miss Springtime to venture out for the first time, yet she has evidently became jealous of King Winter's long reign and has decided that 'tis time for his departure. So Old Winter gathered the remaining tattered shreds of his long worn garments about him and flew before the joyous arrival of sunbeams and spring zephyrs.

The little lady will mount his vacated throne and rule the elements for three months with absolute despotic powers until gorgeously clad Summer, heralded by full blown roses, brilliant blue skies and rapsodizing poets claims her right of successor. Miss Spring entered on her duties today accompanied by warm rains, the forerunners of the April showers which will follow shortly.

Insurance is Paid in Full by Maccabees

The Woman's Benefit association of the Maccabees has paid to L. B. Phillian $1,000, being full amount of the insurance carried by Elizabeth Phillian in above order. This is the first large claim paid by Monessen Review and it has been organized almost twenty years. Another claim of $250 was paid during the year to George Spiegelburg, that amount of insurance being carried by his wife, Mary Spiegelberg. This association insures women up to $5,000 and always pays its claims promptly.

Act At Once

Don't stay in doubt any longer about your health and why you do not feel as good as you used to years ago or even a few months ago. You have said lots of times that you would see the doctor, and yet you have not done so. Why not consult a specialist and get the very best at the start of your treatment and be cured to stay cured? Have you those same "all gone" feelings, depressed spirits, no appetite, hawking and spitting, dull headaches, dragging pains, constipation, etc. The United Specialists will cure you if curable.

Men, have you spots before the eyes, dizzy spells, weak, dull eyes, impaired memory, spots on skin, pimples, strains, etc?

Women, have you dragging pains in abdomen, weak back, pain between shoulders, down spine and legs, ache all over, dragged out? Don't wait until another day, but consult the United Specialists who will cure you if curable for they have made a specialty of treating diseases peculiar to men and to women.

MONESSEN PATIENT SPEAKS

"I had been sick for one year, having been treated from time to time without getting any better. I felt very weak. My heart beat too fast, and had severe pains over it, headaches, kidney trouble, backache, nervous, felt sleepy all the time, trouble with my stomach. I commenced treatment with The United Specialists and in a short time am about in fine condition.

I felt all weak and rundown and did not seem to have any strength and together with my age thought my time for this world was hort. I called upon The United Medical Specialists and after a month and a half treatment I am feeling fine and working every day."

Apropos of the flaunting declaration of Constable Watts as to the ruthless slaughter of dogs, made possible through the wisdom of legislative action, which he purposes to wage, I wish to give you the benefit of a classic delivered by the late Senator George C. Vest, who, seemingly, differed with our constable, and found in a dog something to respect and appreciate and love. Truly man is fearfully and wonderfully made, and one wonders what elements enter into the composition of a man who can enjoy the killing of an animal for the mere sake of killing, yet men were found who did hesitate to manipulate the guillotine or wield the headsman's ax. The speech is as follows:

"The best human friend a man has in the world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter that he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us, those whom we trust with our happiness and our good name may become traitors to their faith. The money that a man has he may lose. It flies away from him, perhaps, when he needs it most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of all-considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honor when success is with us, may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads. The one absolutely unselfish friend that a man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deceives us, the one that never proves ungrateful and treacherous, is his dog.

"A man's dog stands by him in prosperity and in poverty, in health and sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground where the wintry wind blows and the snow drifts fiercely, if only he may be near his master's side. He will kiss the hand that has no food to offer. He will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounter with the roughness of the world. He guards the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince. When all other friends desert, he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces, he is constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens. If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying, to guard against danger, to fight against his enemies, and when the last scene of all comes, and when death takes the master in its embrace and his body is laid away in the cold ground, not matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by the graveside may the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad, but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even in death."

A Friend of the Dog.

Heinz's Appe

Howard Heinz, Federal fo istrator for Pennsylvania, an appeal to the household state to abandon, for this least, the custom of large tion of eggs on Easter. urging an "eggless Easter pointed out the need for co of all food supplies.

The food administration quested dealers to refrain practice of exposing for sa few weeks old. In the pre try shortage, it seems reck of resources to sell chicks in because in almost every they die within a few day conservation of ice in ord ammonia is also advocated.
